EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newsweek. Unless otherwise noted, all news items are taken from the Associated Press.

The race of U.N. forces from the Incheon and Pusan areas to cut South Korea into two sections and isolate thousands of Communist troops in the south went forward at such a clip...

KOREA: Three Bloody Months

After three bloody months the war in Korea appeared near the end with the capture of Seoul, the year-old Korean capital, and the junction of U.N. troops from Incheon and Pusan beachheads.

The second was that period when U.N. forces maintained their beachhead while troops and weapons for an offensive were being massed in Japan and near Pusan.

The breakout from the Pusan beachhead came suddenly and in force. Troops landed at Incheon, captured Seoul and headed south. The two forces were within a few miles of each other at last reports...

Military commanders were quick to report that the fighting would go on for some time as mopping up operations continued. They expected guerrilla warfare in the mountains for a long time...

One important question remained unanswered. Will U.N. troops cross the 38th parallel into North Korea?

NOBEL PRIZE: To American Negro

Dr. Ralph Bunche, U.N. mediator who brought an end to conflict in the Holy Land, was awarded the Nobel peace prize for 1950.

Dr. Bunche, grandson of an American Negro, was the first of his race to receive the peace prize. It will be presented to him December 10. He will receive $23,000 and a gold medal.

A member of the U.S. state department, Dr. Bunche was loaned to the United Nations in 1946. He succeeded Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden as the U.N. mediator in Palestine after Bernadotte was assassinated in 1948, effected an armistice and ended the bitter clash between Jews and Arabs.

"At this moment, I cannot forget that Count Bernadotte and 100 other members of our team gave their lives in the effort to restore peace to Palestine," he said.

Dr. Bunche is the eleventh American to win the peace prize. Others were President Theodore Roosevelt, Elihu Root, Woodrow Wilson, Charles G. Dawes, Frank B. Rowland, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Jane Addams, Cordell Hull, John R. Mott, and Emily G. Balch.

BUSINESS: Buoyant Economy

The business boom flourished on during September, supported by a buoyant civilian economy and increased spending for the rearmament program.

Virtually every one of the standard measuring devices that tell the state of business at any given time showed gains, and in some instances new peaks for recent years. The gains were not advances, indicators held steady.

Headliners

"Let us not, in covering and foolish fear, throw away the ideals which are the fundamental basis for our free society," President Truman said in his 5,300-word message...

"I don't think there is going to be any war, but I think there will be many occasions of great anxiety," Jacob Malik told delegates while which you should know. It is 'nichevo.' It means 'don't worry'—things will turn out all right."

"We have a word in Russian which you should know. It is 'nichevo.' It means 'don't worry'—things will turn out all right."

CONGRESS: Home for Elections

The first congress which will be praised and condemned, according to individual political views, came to a dramatic pause with a filibuster and a vote to override a presidential veto. The congress will reconvene November 27.

The filibuster was unique in that both supporters and opponents of the tough Communist control bill, the issue in question, participated in it.

First, six senators teamed up to filibuster for 19½ hours against the bill in the hope that popular opinion and last-minute presidential appeals might tip the scales in the administration's favor.

Then, when the six finally gave up, supporters of the bill continued to talk until several advocates, including Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio could arrive for the final vote.

Among its sweeping provisions, the bill requires the registration of Communists and Communist-front organizations, authorizes the mass roundup of suspected subversives in case of war or national emergency and provides stiff penalties for espionage and sabotage.

President Truman said he vetoed the measure because: (1) Add potential enemies by requiring publication of a complete list of defense plants.

(2) Require the justice department and the FBI to waste millions of man-hours and time and energy attempting to carry out its unworkable plan.

(3) Deprive the U.S. of "great assistance" of many aliens in intelligence matters.

(4) Antagonize friendly governments.

(5) Put the U.S. in the "thought control" business by regulating subversive literature and propaganda.

(6) Make it easier, instead of harder, for subversive aliens to become naturalized American citizens.

(7) Give federal officials vast powers to harass citizens in the exercise of their right of free speech.

Atlantic Hop

UNITED NATIONS. Vote Down Red Move

Again the Soviet Union's campaign to seat a Communist China in the United Nations met defeat. The defeat was significant in that a vote was taken within four hours of the opening of the fifth session of the general assembly and was the first time the assembly ever tackled a major issue before disposing of routine organizational problems.

The motion to seat the Communist government of China was introduced by India and led to an immediate general assembly and was the first time the assembly ever tackled a major issue before disposing of routine organizational problems.

The U.S. secretary of state said in his speech, "Vote on it now and vote it down." He reminded the assembly that 43 of the U.N.'s 59 members recognized the Nationalists as the true government of China. The vote was 32-9, with 10 abstentions.

Political observers speculated that the Soviet foreign minister might walk out after the vote. He contented himself, however, with declaring the assembly's action "illegal and incorrect."

A Canadian proposal to set up a seven-member committee to study the question of Chinese representation and report back to the assembly when its recommendations were adopted.

Whatever the report, observers believed Russia would continue its campaign to seat Communist China in only a matter of time until the question was brought up again.

RUSSIA: What New Game?

World diplomats are wondering what new game the Russians are playing.

The first clue of a new Soviet attitude was evident with the opening of the U. N. general assembly. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, the Russian foreign minister, and his colleagues on the Soviet delegation, were able to deliver their speeches with a soothing, in comparison to what they used to be. They were making a deliberate show of reasonableness.

Later, Jacob A. Malik declared he favored a meeting of top leaders of the U. S. and Russia to negotiate for peace. He said also his government would pledge not to be the first to use the atomic bomb. He also favored general disarmament.

Malik made his views known in answer to questions submitted to him by a Maryland committee for peace. The Russians are always careful in answering questions and have been cleared and approved.

With this thought in mind diplomats were wondering could he do possible the Soviet realizes what a narrow escape the world has had from a general war? Could it be possible the Russians finally desired peace or was this a propaganda move?

The state department was inclined to believe the latter. After a hurried conference the two nations declared Malik's statements were only propaganda.

WAR-TAX BILL: Congress Approves

Congress approved the $4.7 billion emergency war-tax bill that boosted taxes from 12 to 20 per cent on individual incomes.

It was significant that the senate shouted its approval of the bill with out a roll call and the house passed it 328 to seven. And even while the chambers, the house ways and means committee called a meeting to begin drafting a second tax increase bill.

The two measures together could boost taxes by $12 billion, to almost $50 billion a year—higher than any collections in World War II.

MUMPS: A Commercial Vaccine

A development of a commercial vaccine against mumps has been perfected.

Dr. Karl Habel of the National Institute of health said that limited human trials showed the vaccine, while "not 100 per cent protective," appears to give a three-fold reduction of mumps cases among vaccinated people, as compared with those who were not vaccinated.
