PRICE AND WAGE

(Continued From Page One) will be answerable only to Mr. Truman and will have full authority over civilian agencies already at work building up the nation's military might.

The voluntary freeze on prices and wages which Valentine was reported studying would remain in effect only until March. By that time, ESA expects to be ready to administer compulsory price controls, either on a selective basis or on the whole economy.

A violation of the proposed freeze would carry no penalty. But Mr. Truman said in his Friday night speech that any violations of the "fair standards" he said ESA will announce would hasten mandatory controls and price rollbacks where they are justified.

The rollbacks of new automobile prices announced by ESA Saturday night were protested as unfair by General Motors and Ford, but they said they will comply. The law provides penalties if they don't.

The price ceilings—first since OPA died in 1946—apply only to new cars. Valentine ordered a ceiling until March 1 at the factory price level which prevailed Dec. 1. This wiped out price increases averaging about five per cent, which had been announced by GM, Ford, Chrysler and Nash.

All four firms had contended that price increases were needed to meet rising costs of material and labor. ESTE's War Stabilization Board, headed by Cyrus S. Chung, scheduled talks Wednesday with the automobile unions and management. Chung said the law wages must be stabilized in an industry if its output is under price ceilings.
