

Negro March Of Dimes Leaders Go To Tuskegee Meet

Among many delegates from over the South attending the March of Dimes planning conference Monday and Tuesday at Tuskegee will be P. B. Swoopes and L. R. Steward of Sheffield, S. C. Watkins and P. L. Wessley of Tuscumbia.

For several years P. B. Swoopes has served as chairman of the Negro March of Dimes campaign in Colleton county. Due to the growing ravages of poliomyelitis causing thousands to be permanently afflicted, every available weapon must be used to fight it.

These Negro leaders urge everyone to make the March of Dimes campaign the success necessary for the National Foundation to uphold its pledge that no infantile paralysis patient shall go without the best available medical care, for lack of funds, regardless of age, race, creed, or color.

The National Geographic Society says the atmosphere is so thin in Tibet's uplands that rocks get scorching hot in the sun while nearby shaded areas are freezing cold.

Edwards, president of the Alabama Federation of Garden clubs. During this broadcast lights in Russellville and several hundred other cities and towns in Alabama will be turned on simultaneously, proclaiming "Prayer for Peace." The chimes of the First Methodist church in Russellville will play on Dec. 1 at 5 p. m. as a cue to the citizens of Russellville to turn on their lights.

For the past few weeks high school students throughout Alabama have been writing Prayers for Peace, one of which will be chosen for broadcast on the statewide Christmas program of the Alabama Federation of Garden clubs on Dec. 1 at 5 p. m. over a statewide network.

Forty-two Russellville High school students recently submitted Prayers for Peace. The three prayers selected by Rev. Duncan Hunter of the First Methodist church, Russellville, were written by Sierra Webster, Mary Betty Reed and Jim Wood. Miss Webster's lovely prayer, reprinted below, has been entered in the state contest.

"PRAYER FOR PEACE"

Our Father, which art in Heaven, who's Prayer," to be taken prayer by a pastor of the Baptist church will then dedicate the tree to the peace of the world.

Let us pray today, together; Let us pray for peace; And help those who believe wrong.

Let us bow and forget this thing called pride; Let us forget our certain church and certain tongue; And that minor thing called race.

Let us bow together over the world; And let all people pray; Glory to God in the highest; And on Earth, Peace—Amen.
