Church Declares Itself An "Enemy" Of False Miracles
By FRANK BRUTTO
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has declared itself an enemy of false miracles.

Wanted agents to report on the activities of certain individuals who were claiming to have performed miracles. The church officials were concerned about the spread of such claims.

Miss Anna Mae Wood, a resident of New York, was reported to have performed a miracle. She was said to have cured a child of a serious illness.

A crowd estimated at 100,000 gathered at the site of the miracle. The event was widely reported in the news.
